

Sub May Carry U.S. Mails On Return

Washington, Nov. 1.—The submarine Deutschland on her return voyage may carry United States mail to Germany, the Postoffice Department announced.

It depends on the acceptance by the submarine's owner of the department's terms.

A few weeks ago Ambassador Bernstorff took the matter up with the State Department, saying the submarine's owners would carry mail at the rate of $1 a pound if specially constructed containers were provided.

The Postoffice Department countered with the proposal to pay only the regular rate for carrying mail, less than a tenth that asked by the submarine.

The department stipulated also that only first-class mail would be sent in this manner, and only the usual receptacles provided.

The submarine's owners agreed to accept the regular rate, but have not yet agreed to the provision concerning containers.

In view of the fact that much American mail has been seized by the British, it would be interesting to see a German vessel handle it on a plan of running the allied blockade.

HANDS-UP, SAYS THUG; GETS BIBLE, SONG BOOK AND FIFTEEN CENTS

Dallas, Nov. 1.—A discouraged Dallas thug is thinking very serious today of changing his profession and adopting a means of livelihood that is a little more certain of results. Tuesday night he stopped Charles Hutchinson, negro, near the corner of Atlanta street and Peabody avenue with the command to throw up his hands. Hutchinson complied with his request without delay and the bad man went into the negro's pockets and dug up 15 cents, a song book and a Bible. Disgusted, he let the negro go, who reported the affair to the police.

HEAVY REALIZING SENDS COTTON DOWN

New York, Nov. 1.—The big advance in the cotton market yesterday was followed today by an almost equally rapid decline under a renewal of heavy realizing or liquidation. After selling at 19.25 early today or fully $4.50 a bale above the low price of Monday, January contracts broke to 18.72 during the afternoon with the general list selling at declines of more than $1.50 a bale from last night's closing figures. The failure of a private crop estimate of 10,476,000 bales to create more active demand seemed to discourage recent buyers and the market showed nervousness also over the submarine situation.

WHEAT PRICES DOWN; LIQUIDATION HEAVY

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Wheat price suffered a severe setback today, falling in some cases as much as 6 cents a bushel. Apparent chances of increased tension between the United States and Germany had a decided bearish influence and so, too, did prospects of imports of Australian wheat at San Francisco.

Heavy liquidation of holdings took place here. A leading bull speculator was especially conspicuous in the selling.

The greatest tumble in prices showed in the December option, which dropped to $1.82½, compared with $1.88½ and $1.89 at the finish yesterday. The close today was very unsettled, with December at $1.82½ and $1.82½ and May at $1.81½ and $1.82.

FOUR BATTALIONS ARE ANNIHILATED BY THE RUMANIANS

London, Nov. 1.—The Austro-German forces have retired from the region of Campulung, in Northern Rumania, pursued by the Rumanians, who have passed over the frontier in the movement, according to a dispatch to Bucharest, says a wireless message from Rome today.

Four hostile battalions were annihilated by the Rumanians, according to this report.

COPELAND GOES FREE; VERDICT IS NOT GUILTY

Galveston, Tex., Nov. 1.—Following deliberations which occupied eighty-four hours, the jury in the case of John Copeland of Marshall, accused of the killing of Wm. Black, an anti-Catholic lecturer, at Marshall on February 3, 1915, this morning brought in a verdict of not guilty.

Twice during their deliberations the jury had reported to Judge Clay Stone Briggs of the tenth district court that they could not reach a verdict and each time had been sent back for further consideration of the case. Monday afternoon, at the request of the jurors, the testimony of C. F. Hall, the state's principal witness, and of John Copeland, the defendant, was read to the jury.

Refused to Dismiss Jury.

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the jury came into court and asked for the second time to be excused because of inability to reach a verdict. Judge Briggs declined the request and told the jurors to return to their room and come to a decision.

U-53 IS SAFE IN PORT ON OTHER SIDE

Berlin, Nov. 1, via London.—The German submarine U-53 has returned safely to a German port, according to official announcement.

The U-53, under Captain Hans Rose, arrived at Newport, R. I., 17 days out from Wilhelmshaven, on Oct. 7 and after remaining for three hours departed. The next day she sank five ships off the American coast. The Berlin announcement clears up the conjecture as to what had become of the submersible concerning which a number of rumors arose, including one that she had been sunk.

BANDITS LOCKED A CASHIER IN THE VAULT AND TOOK ALL LOOSE CASH

Maize, Kan., Nov. 1.—Three men held up W. J. Mulholland, cashier of the Maize State Bank at noon today, locked him in the vault and after gathering up all the currency available, escaped in a motor car toward Hutchinson. The cashier's wife released him from the vault. The bandits were not masked and no shots were fired.

Deutschland Here On Second Trip

New London, Conn., Nov. 1.—The German submersible Deutschland, which arrived here this morning from Bremen after what was said to have been an uneventful voyage of twenty-one days, has a cargo of 750 tons of dyestuffs, medicines and chemicals. Stevedores were prepared to remove the cargo but permission has not yet been granted by the customs officials.

Neither Captain Koenig nor Captain F. Hirsch of the Eastern Forwarding company was communicative as to details of the trip, but promised to see newspaper men late in the afternoon. They pleaded they were too busy with the unloading.

Crowds thronged the dock in the hope of getting a glimpse of the craft, but were disappointed.

The submarine is so well berthed in her pocket that not even her masts show. Police and detectives kept the crowd moving.

Washington, Nov. 1.—No arms or ammunition were aboard the submarine Deutschland and apparently the vessel was in the condition she left Baltimore several weeks ago, customs authorities at New London today reported to the treasury department. Instructions were given that the Deutschland be treated as a merchant ship, lacking further information, and there were no orders to delay the unloading of her cargo. Officials pointed out that at Baltimore the Deutschland did not unload for several days after arrival.

Investigation by naval officers may, but is not expected to, change the view now taken by customs authorities of the submarine's status.

Campaign Not To Delay Marina Probe

London, Nov. 1.—Further affidavits from American survivors of the sunken British steamer Marina say that the vessel had a 4.7 inch gun mounted astern, but that it was not used as the ship had no warning of the submarine attack and it was too late after the torpedo had hit the vessel.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Secretary Lansing authorized a formal statement today that the progress of the political campaign would in no way affect the investigation of submarine attacks and that there had been no change in the United States government's policy.

Meanwhile Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, sent a wireless dispatch to his government asking that he be furnished immediately, by wireless, with all the details available regarding the sinking of the Marina.

Secretary Lansing's statement follows:

"The fact that a political campaign is in progress will in no way affect the practice of the department in negotiating and in making full investigation of cases of this sort. We shall do it as we always have, with as much celerity as possible.

"I wish also to make another statement on a matter which has been brought to my attention. The question has been raised as to whether the policy of the President or department in regard to submarine warfare since the Sussex was sunk has been changed. I wish to say emphatically that there has been no change in any particular."

Secretary Lansing made it plain also that no decisive action would be taken until Germany had had opportunity to reply to the inquiry for her version of the attacks on the Marina and Rowanmore.

Many Hedge Bets Made On Wilson

New York, Nov. 1.—A cool million or more has poured into the New York betting ring in presidential election wagers so far, according to William Marco of Wasserman Bros., brokers.

He sized up the betting thus far as being "quiet and heavy," with the emphasis on both the quiet and the heavy.

"At the outset," he said, "the bettors were so sure of Hughes' election that they were willing to offer almost any odds. For that reason they were giving 2½ to 1, or 2 to 1, for quite a while.

"Then Wilson money became more plentiful and a lot of folks, especially the little fellows, got scared and hedged. That made the odds shift around until they got to even money.

"Now that they've hedged by betting on Wilson, the odds are shifting again. All the bets are not getting into the papers, either. I know of one bet of $40,000 on Hughes."

Much is heard about betting this year, but Marco, who is reputed to know the betting game from the ground up, says it's no more open than in previous campaigns.

TEXAS BANKERS GET TWO YEARS EACH IN PEN

Houston, Tex., Nov. 1.—Sentences aggregating seventeen years and six months were imposed in the United States district court here today. H. J. Bolton and B. R. Taylor, former president and cashier, respectively, of the Wharton, Tex., National bank, convicted of conspiracy to violate the national banking laws, were each sentenced to two years imprisonment at Atlanta. Both asked the court for clemency.

Earl McFarlane and R. C. Cummings, who pleaded guilty to conspiracy to violate the Harrison narcotic act were each given two years at Atlanta.

For violation of the Mann act, George Murr, a Syrian, and Annie Shaheen, who claimed to be Murr's wife, were sentenced; Murr to three years at Atlanta, the woman to the Oklahoma state prison for one year and five months.

LOUISIANA PLANTER SHOT BY "SQUATTER"

Shreveport, La., Nov. 1.—Homer Eubanks, 30, a prominent Caddo parish planter, was waylaid and shot from his horse on a public road near Ida, La., this morning. An eye-witness claims that a white fisherman, who had been "squatting" on the Eubanks plantation, fired on young Eubanks from ambush, killing the planter almost instantly. The assassin made his escape.

FRENCH CHECK HEAVY ATTACKS BY KAISER'S MEN

Paris, Nov. 1.—French troops made progress north of the Somme last night in the region of Les Bouefs and repulsed violent German counter attacks from the north and east upon Sailly-Saillisset. It was officially announced today. Seventy prisoners were taken.

On the Verdun front the night was calm.

BERNSTORFF HAS ASKED BERLIN FOR MARINA NEWS

Washington, Nov. 1.—Ambassador Bernstorff this afternoon said he had sent a wireless message to Berlin asking for all information that may be obtained there concerning the sinking of the Marina.

He expressed his own disbelief in the reports thus far received which indicate that the submarine gave the Marina no warning.

SUPREME COURT TAKES NO ACTION IN GILMORE CASE

Austin, Tex., Nov. 1.—The Supreme court did not transact any business today, adjourning until Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

At that time it is expected a decision will be rendered in the Gilmore injunction case against the State Democratic Executive Committee to restrain certification of the name of C. H. Hurdleston as a candidate for Railroad Commissioner to fill the unexpired term of the late William D. Williams.

REQUEST FOR MONEY CAUSED AN EXODUS

Dallas, Nov. 1.—L. T. Bowers, employee of the Brown Cracker & Candy Co., armed with a high-powered repeating rifle, approached the cashier demanding his pay this morning.

"I'm quitting and want my money," he demanded.

"But the boss is out of town, and I can't pay you without an order," answered the cashier. Then that official saw the armament, and disappeared.

Surprised, Bowers began an exploration of the firm's private offices, carrying the weapon in the crook of his arm.

None paused, however. At each turn, Bowers arrived just in time to see the flying coat tail of scurrying clerks.

Bowers accidentally blundered into the office of an under superintendent. The official held his seat and eyed the intruder with apprehension.

"Well?"

"What's the idea, holiday?" asked Bowers calmly. "I've been hunting—"

"What?" broke in the other with increased alarm.

"—for somebody to give me my money," continued Bowers.

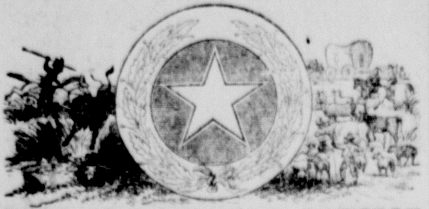

With relief, he hastily wrote Bowers an order.

Bowers didn't go far, however. Turning a corner in the corridor, he was rudely seized by Police Captain Tanner and Sergeant Lamar, disarmed and escorted to the police station.

There he explained that he had decided to go on a hunting trip and had stopped on his way to the station for his pay check.

CATTLE WITH TICKS BRING LOW PRICES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—The average value of beef cattle over two years old in ten tick-infested states —North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Florida, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas—was $25.90 on January 1, 1915. For the remainder of the country on that date it was $48.47. In Georgia and Florida the average price was $18, in Alabama $20, in Mississippi $22, in Louisiana $24. In every tick-free state, with the exception of Vermont and Tennessee, the average value was $40 or more and in eighteen the average was over $50.

There are two reasons why cattle in a ticky country are worth less than in a tick-free one. They weigh less and they bring less per pound.
They bring less because they cannot be sold on the open market but must be disposed of in quarantine pens for immediate slaughter only. Experienced dealers estimate that buyers offer from fifty cents to two dollars a hundred weight less for cattle from below the quarantine line and the owner, who cannot transship his herd to another market or sell the animals as feeders, is in no position to stand out for a better price.

Ticky cattle weigh less because they are scrubs to begin with and because the tick sucks the blood they need to make flesh. Experiments have shown that when the ticks are abundant they will take in a course of the year 200 pounds of blood from a thousand-pound steer. They don't take it all at once, of course, but they take it nevertheless and the steer, in order to live, has to make new blood. While he is busy at that, he is not likely to put on much weight.
Fattening ticky steers is like trying to keep a leaky barrel full; there is a lot of waste in the process.

Furthermore, as all cattlemen know, there is more money in grade stock than in scrubs. Elsewhere in the country farmers are turning their attention to grading their herds; in the tick-infested sections of the South this has been impossible for no one will risk bringing pure-bred bulls into a ticky county to die from Texas fever.

Both directly and indirectly, therefore, the tick keeps down the weight of southern cattle and the eradication of the pest is essential if the southern beef producers are to compete on even terms with producers elsewhere. The matter is as vital to the small farmer as to the large cattle owner. Students of agriculture are all agreed that the average southern farm today has too little stock upon it for its own good. The reason is obvious. Under the conditions created by the tick, cattle raising is not a sufficiently attractive industry to appeal to the average man. Without the tick, the business assumes a different aspect. This has been abundantly demonstrated in those sections in which the tick has been eradicated. Almost invariably the tick's disappearance is accompanied by an increase in the quantity and an improvement in the quality of the county's live stock.

WEEK AT LEAST BEFORE ANY OFFICIAL OPINION ON MARINA INCIDENT

Washington, Nov. 1.—A week or more may elapse before the United States government can form an official opinion on the sinking of the British steamer Marina and Rowan-more by German submarines, it became evident today. The American embassy at Berlin has been instructed to obtain informally and with all haste possible the German version of the attack. The submarines could not return to their bases for several days, however, and transmission of the commanders' reports would require some time. Until these are available, it was not believed the Washington government would take any drastic action.

Officials took cognizance of news dispatches asserting the Marina had been torpedoed without warning and several Americans were missing, but they continue to believe full investigation might show the vessel had lost her immunity as a merchantman by trying to escape or to ram the submarine. They also made plain that affidavits of the American survivors must be awaited before an official opinion was formed.

The only important point to be determined in regard to the Rowan-more was whether the submarine fired on the boats carrying the crew from the abandoned ship as was reported by sailors.

MARINA WAS ATTACKED BY TWO SUBMARINES —EYEWITNESS ACCOUNTS.

Cork, Nov. 1, via London.—Fifteen Americans who reached Cork Tuesday night with the other members of the crew of the Marina, after the steamer had been sunk by a submarine, are today under the care of the American consul.

"I saw two submarines," said Robert Preston, one of the crew, "while I was getting into the boat of Mr. Smith (the only surviving officer). The second explosion came after we were clear of the ship. The first torpedo had given the vessel a tremendous list. The second righted it and shook it from stem to stern and broke it up so that it sank immediately. I saw three of the crew running up the stern as the vessel gave its last plunge. Captain Browne was the coolest man on board. During the launching of the boats he saw that every man visible was in the boat, then jumped for a boat himself, but missed it in the rough seas and was drowned before our eyes."

Questioned further in regard to the presence of two submarines, Preston said:

"There were two plainly visible from the bridge. The first one attacked us on the starboard side while the other lay off some distance to port doing observation duty."

"The ship was struck squarely in the bunkers," said Robert Hay, a member of the engine room staff.
"The bunkers fell in and the engines were dismantled. Two men were killed in the stokehold and several others were scalded."

"Three boats got away, a fourth was smashed. Orders were given to see particularly that all Americans among passengers or crew were saved.
The wireless station tried to summon aid, but its gear was dismantled by the first torpedo."

was, "All I have is my wife and baby

Two bullets entered Nash's body, one in the stomach and one near the

PISTOL FIRED BY WHISK BROOM WOUNDS OFFICER

Dallas, Nov. 1.—W. B. Williams, patrolman, was accidentally shot through the fleshy part of the thigh Wednesday morning and sustained a painful, though not serious, wound.

Williams had had his shoes shined at a bootblacks' stand and was having his clothes brushed when the handle of the whisk broom struck the hammer of the pistol in the officer's pocket, causing the cartridge to explode. The bullet went into the thigh just below the hip and came out above the knee and struck the man's foot. He was taken to St.
Paul's Sanitarium, where he is being treated.

Williams has been on the force two months. The accident was due to his leaving the hammer of the pistol on a loaded shell.

Educational Amendment Does Not Impose Upon People of Greater Texas

House Joint Resolution No. 30, the amendment to the Texas Constitution does not impose a tax upon the people, but merely insures a better school system.

This resolution to be voted on by the people on the 7th day of November, provides for an amendment to the Constitution which will give all school districts in the State the authority to levy a tax not to exceed $1.00 on the hundred dollars valuation of property by majority vote of the qualified taxpaying voters of the district. It will also give authority to the citizens of the county to levy a county tax for the maintenance of all the schools in the county upon a majority vote of the qualified taxpaying voters of the county.

It Is Democratic.

The essential points of this resolution amount to one thing and one thing only, and that is to give to the people in the city and in the country, the right to contribute more money to the support of their schools upon a majority vote of the qualified property tax-paying voters. If the people know how much money they want to spend for clothes for their children and for other necessities and luxuries of life, then why should they not have common sense enough to know how much money they want to spend for their schools in the education of their children? If you believe that the people are competent to say how much of their own money they are to spend in the education of children, then you should vote for this amendment.

Does Not Levy a Tax.

If this amendment is adopted by the people of Texas, it will not levy one cent of tax. It will only give to such counties and school districts in the State as desire additional support for their schools, the privilege of securing such support by a majority vote of the people. If your county or district does not need more money, you should still vote for the amendment because there are many counties and independent schools districts in Texas which do need the right to get more money through the adoption of this amendment.

Many Schools in Distress.

The compulsory school attendance law is filling to overflowing many schools in the state which do not have the room, the desks or the teachers to care for the children. Many such schools have already reached the constitutional limit in taxation and the adoption of this amendment provides the means for securing absolutely necessary equipment. Since education of the people is the greatest business of the State, why not strike out this constitutional handicap to education progress by adopting House Joint Resolution 30?

Will Benefit All.

If this amendment is adopted, both the city and country schools will be given enlarged opportunity for the support of their schools if they desire increased support. As it now stands, if more money is needed, and if the voters in the district desire to pay more money for the support of the schools, they would be prohibited from doing so in many districts in Texas by the present constitutional provisions, such districts having already levied the maximum tax provided by the Constitution.

Furthermore, the adoption of this amendment will make possible the levying of a county tax, the proceeds of which will be apportioned on a per capita basis to all children throughout the county both in the city and in the country.

No Change in School Tax.

If this amendment is adopted it will in no wise affect the present State ad valorem school tax. The Constitution already provides for State School tax and the adoption of this amendment will only extend the privilege of securing additional support to such districts as need and desire such increased support without affecting in any way the system of securing school funds.

What Neighbors Doing.

The State of Arkansas has a constitutional limit of seven mills for local school purposes, as against five mills in Texas. The people of Arkansas will vote upon the proposition of raising this limit to twelve mills at the general election in November of this year. Oklahoma already has a state school tax limit of fifteen mills, New Mexico ten mills, and Louisiana sixteen mills with no limit on local taxes. VERDICTS OF GUILTY RENDERED IN TWO CASES

The jury in the case of Morris Mals, charged with the murder of Will Williams, another negro, in a field in Boggy bend, where a crowd of darkies were spending the night shooting craps, returned a verdict at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning finding the defendant guilty of manslaughter and assessing the penalty at five years in the penitentiary. The case went to the jury Tuesday evening and after the verdict was returned and the jury discharged one of the jurors remarked that there was a greater divergence of opinion than on any jury on which he had ever sat.
While some of the jurors wanted to turn the defendant loose others were in favor of assessing the death penalty.

The court was occupied all day yesterday in the trial of R. M.
Knowles, a white man who lives at Deport, on the charge of statutory criminal assault. When the case was called the defense moved to quash the special venire on the ground that the veniremen had not been legally summoned. The court overruled the motion and the defense then moved for a continuance on account of absent witnesses. This motion was likewise overruled, and while the work of impaneling the jury was in progress the defense, after its peremptory challenges had been exhausted, continued to challenge every other venireman whose name was called for cause.

After the prosecution had finished introducing its witnesses and announced that it would rest the defense without introducing testimony moved that the court give the jury peremptory instructions to return a verdict of not guilty, claiming that the state had failed to make out a case. The court declined to give the instructions and the case went to the jury late in the evening. Up to the supper hour the jury had not brought in a verdict and before going home Judge Denton announced that if they should agree on a verdict at any time up to 9 o'clock he would come down to receive it.

The sheriff was notified a little after 9 o'clock that the jury was ready to report and Judge Denton was sent for. At 9:30 o'clock the verdict was received finding the defendant guilty and assessing the penalty at five years in the penitentiary.

DELTA COUNTY COUPLE MARRIED IN PARIS

Jra C. Wood of Charleston, Delta county, and Miss Elizabeth Mahan of Cunningham, Lamar county, a handsome young couple, were united in marriage at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Morgan hotel, Rev.
W. B. Kendall performing the ceremony.
The bride was accompanied to town by her father and her brother and the latter's daughter, and the wedding was witnessed by a few of the hotel guests. The groom, who is a son of Dr. W. A. Wood, an old resident of Charleston and prominent citizen, is a young farmer. The couple remained in Paris last night and they will go to Cooper this morning to visit his sister before returning home.

A DWELLING DAMAGED ON WASHINGTON STREET

A dwelling on East Washington street, between Twenty-Second and Twenty-third, which was occupied by the family of W. B. Blohm, an automobile repairer, and the family of W. M. Langham, a carpenter at the Hogue Manufacturing Company's shop, caught on fire from the flue at 7:20 o'clock yesterday morning. An alarm was turned in and when the firemen arrived the flames were burning through the roof, but they laid three lines of hose and succeeded in keeping the fire confined to the back part of the house, which was practically destroyed. Mr. Blohm was preparing to vacate the house and had some of his things packed, and Mr. Langham had just moved in. Neither of them carried any insurance. The amount of damage to the house was insured for $500 and $600 and it was insured for $750.

Water Bills are due on 1st day of each month and unless paid by the 10th service will be discontinued and $1.00 penalty added.

DISTINGUISHES HIMSELF KILLING HIS FIRST DUCK

The fourteen-year-old son of a tenant on the Thielman farm seven miles north of town had the distinction a few days ago of not only killing his first duck, but the distinction of killing several at the same time and of making a most remarkable shot. The boy's father, who had always exercised great precaution in not allowing him to handle his gun except occasionally to shoot a rabbit close around home, started down to the pool a short distance from the house in the pasture to water the horses and saw some ducks on it. He called to his boy to get the gun and told him he might take a shot at them.

In his excitement the boy pulled back both hammers when he went to take a shot and when he fired one barrel it jarred the other hammer loose, causing both barrels to be discharged almost at the same time.
The gun kicked back clear over his shoulder, but didn't hurt him. He was a little astonished to observe after shooting that all the ducks still remained on the water. He hurriedly reloaded the gun, but before he shot again he discovered that the reason the ducks remained on the water was that he had killed all of them. There were nine dead ducks.

A LITTLE NEGRO GIRL SUSTAINS BROKEN LEG

A little negro girl about ten years old, living in an alley between North Eighteenth and Twentieth streets, had a leg broken about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the corner of Seventeenth and Bonham streets by coming in contact with an automobile which belonged to J. F. White and was run as a service car. A street car going west and the service car going east with a load of passengers had just met and the little negro girl was crossing the street at the intersection. As soon as the street car passed she came out from behind it just in time to run against the fender of the passing auto. It did not knock her down or run over her, but her right leg was broken in some way between the knee and the ankle in being struck.

Zach Rice, a rural mail car, who makes his trips on a motorcycle with a side car, came along just after the accident, and as Mr. White had a load of passengers he got Mr. Rice to carry the little girl up to the office of Dr. J. L. Hammond. She was placed in the side car and was carried in it. It is understood that several persons witnessed the accident and that they stated that the driver of the service car was not to blame.

A DEPORT LITTLE BOY DIES FROM LOCKJAW

The four-year-old son of Sidney Wright, a resident of Deport, met with death under distressing circumstances on last Monday. While the little fellow was playing around home in his bare feet about a week ago he stepped on a nail, which pierced his heel. The wound closed up and to all appearances healed up almost immediately.
It did not cause him but very slight pain or suffering at the time, but last Monday morning he was stricken all at once with lockjaw, and his arms and muscles jerked like a person suffering from strychnine poison. The doctors were unable to cause his jaws to relax, and he continued to grow worse until he died at about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning.

A PARIS YOUNG MAN A MAGAZINE WRITER

Josef Noyes, a well known Paris young man who is a graduate of the High School, has been displaying considerable taste and talent in writing for magazines, and he has had several paid contributions accepted. Recently he sent to the Popular Mechanics magazine a contribution entitled "The Most Unique Bank Building in the World," and he has just received a notice from the publisher of its acceptance with an accompanying check. The bank described in the article is the one in the center of the square at Paris, on which a hundred men were employed and which was practically built in a day. Usually magazine contributions do not appear in less than two or three months after they are accepted, and a number of Mr. Noyes' friends will be impatient to read it.

THIS GIRL CLERK DIDN'T WATCH CLOCK AT CLOSING TIME

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 1.—Employers don't care much for employees who watch the clock. Hazel Saunders, seventeen, a clerk in a local department store, is due for a raise in salary on this hypothesis. Miss Saunders didn't watch the clock Tuesday afternoon at quitting time. As a result she was locked up in the store and couldn't get out. She declares she telephoned several different department heads without avail.

Finally, apparently very nervous over her plight, the young woman appeared in one of the street display windows and, attracting the attention of passers-by, was released.

ALLEGES IMPROPER ATTENTION TO SOLDIER

New York, Nov. 1.—Brig. Gen. McCoskey Butt said today that he would ask the civil courts to consider allegations that his son, Private Robert McCoskey Butt, of the Seventh Infantry, New York National Guard, had not received proper medical treatment on the Texas border. Gen. Butt made this statement after receiving the report of a board of army medical officers appointed to investigate his son's case. The board found that Private Butt had been treated with every consideration and care. Private Butt arrived here from Texas about six weeks ago unattended and went to a local hospital where the physicians diagnosed his illness as paratyphoid.

GRAVE SUPREME COURT JUSTICES SEE MINIATURE MINING PLANT AT WORK

Washington, Nov. 1.—Dynamos, motors and other electrical apparatus whizzed and whirled in the supreme court chamber at the capitol when the justices viewed a miniature mining plant in full operation. The demonstration, unique in the court history, was held to give the justices an actual view of a mining plant in operation, one used in many countries and attacked as invalid in a case recently argued.

Heavy mahogany benches and chairs were shifted to install the model machinery and the whole process of concentrating ores by what is known as the "oil flotation" process was worked out. Several mining engineers and attorneys had charge of the demonstration.

The demonstration was held before court convened by permission of Chief Justice White and previously had been given in the Montana, Delaware and California federal courts during prior litigation. The Minerals Separation Co., Ltd., a British syndicate, is seeking to prosecute an alleged infringement of its patented flotation process in a suit against James M. Hyde, a mining engineer of Butte and Palo Alto, California. The process is licensed for use in many mining districts, but the patent was held void by the ninth federal circuit court, the company appealing to the supreme court.

7,000 OKLAHOMA COAL MINERS ARE OUT ON STRIKE

McAlester, Okla., Nov. 1.—Seven thousand coal miners, representing sixty-five local unions, went out on strike in Oklahoma coal fields this morning.

Mine worker officials say the strike will continue indefinitely unless the operators accede to the miners' demands.

The operators' officials say the demands will never be conceded. Seventeen independent companies employing 350 miners have signed the scale and will continue work.

GANTLET OF WARSHIPSNew London, Conn., Nov. 1.— Germany's first commercial submarine, the Deutschland, arrived here early today, completing her second voyage through the warships of Great Britain and France on both sides of the Atlantic. Under Captain Paul Koenig, who was in command during her first trip to Baltimore, the Deutschland left Bremen Oct.
10 and tied up at a berth prepared for her here at 2:35 o'clock this morning.The German submarine entered the lower harbor shortly after midnight, coming in by the Race at the entrance to Long Island Sound. For several weeks the Eastern Forwarding company, agents for her owners, had a tug each night off Montauk Point, ready to meet the Bremen, but the tug was withdrawn sometime ago. It was evident that the Forwarding company had some warning of the Deutschland's arrival, however, for a tug was engaged and Captain F. Hirsch of the company accompanied by the health officer, steamed out to meet the submarine.
Searchlights Showed Way.The North German-Lloyd steamer Willehad, which had been at her dock here for a number of weeks awaiting the arrival of a German submarine freighter, let her searchlights play on the water, marking the path by which the Deutschland traveled to her wharf.Captain Koenig said that he had expected to leave Bremen on October 1, but his boat was injured in a collision and forced to put back for repairs, which delayed her sailing for ten days.The captain and the crew of twenty-five men were in excellent health and high spirits over the success of their second venture. The Deutschland carried clearance papers for "Baltimore or any Atlantic port."The boat was no sooner moored than she was screened from sight by a pontoon carrying a high fence.
Her crew went on board the Wille-had, where quarters were awaiting them.A score of negro stevedores were sent aboard the Willehad in readiness to begin bringing out the cargo of the submarine at daylight or as soon as James McGovern of Bridgeport, collector of customs for the Connecticut district, had given the necessary permission.Captain Hirsch said that later in the day Captain Koenig probably would give out a statement regarding his trip across the Atlantic.Captain Koenig said that except for unusually rough weather the trip across had been uneventful. The Deutschland's cargo is said to consist mainly of chemicals and medicines.While New London has been expecting the arrival of a German submarine for some months the Deutschland's appearance was a surprise except to the officials of the Eastern Forwarding company here, the American agents for the German line of submarine merchantmen. The Deutschland appeared off the east-ern port soon after midnight and anchored. A heavy fog lay over the harbor. The T. A. Scott Wrecking company, sub-agents of the Eastern Forwarding company, sent its tug T. A. Scott Jr., which towed the craft to the special berth at the forwarding company's wharf alongside the German-Lloyd liner Willehad.
Captain Koenig pleaded to newspaper men that he was too tired to talk, but promised an interview later in the day.

VIEWS OF TWO CANDIDATES

KEEP FOREIGN AFFAIRS OUT OF POLITICS—WILSON.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 1.—President Wilson here today registered a "solemn protest" against the use of the international relationship of the nation for partisan purposes. Men who do this, he said, "I cannot and will not regard as patriots."

He declared questions involving human lives should not be dragged into politics.

The president's protest was greeted by prolonged applause. He said he would not consent that the Democratic party be used for any such purpose.

U. S. DEMANDS RESPECT OF ALL NATIONS—HUGHES.

Sullivan, Ind., Nov. 1.—Charles Hughes today declared in an open-air address here that while the United States does not wish war it proposes to maintain its self-respect. "The American people have realized at this time in our history it is very important that there should be no question of their attitude with respect to the maintenance of American rights," Mr. Hughes said. "We desire peace, but we desire an honorable peace. We do not wish war, but we propose to maintain our self-respect. "We know perfectly well that there is no future for the country unless we enjoy the friendship of the world."

BARNUM & BAILEY

HAVE GREAT CLOWNS

One of the things that delighted the hearts of our fathers and grandfathers when they were youngsters were the songs of the clown in the circus; in those days there were but few theatres in the country in which singing was done, only the largest cities had theatres in which vaudeville performances were given, and they didn't call it vaudeville in those days, it was "variety shows."

Since the circus has grown so large as to require tents of such enormous size, as those for instance of the Barnum and Bailey show which comes to Paris next Thursday it has been necessary to increase the number of rings and add two stages upon which performances may be given in order that they may be brought within seeing distance of the enormous audiences. These great tents obliterated the talking and singing clowns, for not one clown in a thousand could make himself heard in all parts of a tent so big, so instead of the merry jest and comic song the clown has become a creature of action and must create his fun by his grotesque appearance by little pantomimic playlets, and his foolish movements, funny falls and visible pranks.

The "producing" clown is the real clown of today; he is the clown who can create new tricks, in which he is assisted by one or more of his fellow fops, and in such a show as Barnum and Bailey's it is a necessity to have a great many of these funmakers. The actual number being between 50 and 60. These merry sons of Momus are busy almost every minute in some sort of foolery that keeps the audience in a continuous roar of laughter, strange to say, however, there is with the Barnum and Bailey show one singing clown and he makes himself heard by every one in the audience with the utmost distinctness.

AUSTIN BOY IS FATALLY

STABBED; NEGRO IS HELD

Austin, Tex., Nov. 1.—Randolph Gordon Clarke, 17 years old, was stabbed to death by Harvey Hubert, a negro, late Tuesday night, on E. Sixth street. The negro claimed a "gang" of Halloween rollickers had annoyed him and a woman with whom he was walking, and that he had "stopped it." An eyewitness of the stabbing declared that young Clarke was not a member of the gang that disturbed Hubert, but was the innocent victim of the negro's anger. A butcher knife was used in the stabbing, severing one of Clarke's ribs. The negro is in jail.

BAILEY MAY RETURN

AND HE MAY NOT

Washington, Oct. 31.—Former Senator Joseph W. Bailey may return to Gainesville to vote for Woodrow Wilson Nov. 7, and he may not.

"Don't say I am coming," said the senator, when asked about it today, "as it might lead them to expect me."

The senator said he would rather make no statement at all, but when pressed, explained he had a case in the supreme court today that might be put to a hearing and another which would be called Nov. 13.

Although the court adjourns Friday, his business is in such shape that he could not be positive now about going to Texas to vote. Asked for a statement on the campaign, the senator said he believed the people were thoroughly familiar with the issue and that he could add nothing informative to what had been said.

Manager Mitchell of the Kress store has come back to Paris with his family and will personally supervise the fitting and opening of the new store which he expects to open about the 25th. He is glad to get back to Paris.

He saved the best for the last and presented Bishop McCoy a copy of the testament in Greek saying: "You are and have been so faithful that we feel that you are a part of the North Texas Conference. While in our midst last spring in the interest of Wesley college you can never know how you endeared yourself to us and how you helped us and we want you to know it."

On motion of Dr. Moore, all the ministers including the lay leaders, R. C. Dial, Morris Harrell and B. F. Vaughn of the Greenville District came to the front and were addressed by the bishop on all the collections of this district coming up in full.

C. A. Spragins in his own original way presented Dr. C. M. Harless a handsome overcoat as a token of warm fellowship. Dr. Harless was so overcome by this that his words of appreciation could hardly be heard for his feelings.

Dr. Tucker, late missionary to Brazil, was then presented to the Conference.
